Abigayle Oakley reps Las Vegas this season on NBC's The Voice

Las Vegas native, Abigayle Oakley, earned a triple chair turn on The Voice earlier this month. Within the first 10 seconds of her Blind Audition, all three coaches (Kelly Clarkson, John Legend, and Adam Levine) turned around dotting on Abigayle's "soft but powerful" voice.

The Las Vegas Academy (class of 2018) grad chose Team Kelly Clarkson and will be moving forward to the Battle rounds airing Monday nights 9/8c on NBC.

A quote from the indie-folk artist Abigayle Oakley: "I'm so proud to be representing my hometown this season on The Voice. Vegas is where I found my voice, where I learned to write songs, where I was encouraged to follow my dreams. Vegas, this is for you! Thank you for everything."

The child of a bassist and an actress in the Vegas music scene, Abigayle has been writing songs for over a decade and touring since 2023. Her songs are award-winning and have been performed across the US and Canada.

On April 18th, you can find Abigayle performing her original music at The Dustland (1433 S Commerce St, Las Vegas, NV 89102). For more info go to AbigayleOakley.com/tour
