

Abigayle Oakley

About

From Las Vegas to Nashvegas, Abigayle Oakley blends the melodic richness of folk pioneers with the lyrical honesty of today's confessional singer-songwriters. Her songs explore the complexities of life and the existential questions that shape us, often with a sharp, tongue-in-cheek wit that adds layers of humor and insight.

Abigayle will be making her national television debut on this season of NBC's The Voice (airing Feb 23rd). She is also a recent winner of the Kerrville New Folk Competition and has played hundreds of shows in the US and Canada opening for acts such as The War and Treaty, Jed and The Valentine, Forest Blakk and more. When not writing, practicing, or performing, you can find Abigayle hiking the beautiful hills of Tennessee.

Spotify

AbigayleOakley

Instagram

@AbigayleOakley

Website

www.AbigayleOakley.com

Press Photos

Click Here

Contact:

702 - 755 - 4784

AO@AbigayleOakley.com

Abigayle Oakley

Press

"Authentic, gifted, engaging and unapologetically quirky."

- Rhea March, CJSR Radio, School of Song (Edmonton Folk Festival)

"Unbridled talent, grit, and miles of charm."

- Jackson Emmer, award-winning songwriter

"A talented indie-folk songwriter! Watch for her"

- Tony King, CKUA Radio

Live at CJSR

Acoustic Live

Lightning 100

Local Artist of the Week

Lhyme.com

Video

